The Pick and Drill, a small weekly of Prescott, has been sold by Captain Banta to Thomas Shultz.

The new school house in Solomonville, which is to cost about $6000, is rapidly nearing completion.

Thomas Smith, aged 65 years, an Arizona pioneer, passed away last week at Huachuca Siding. The remains were interred at Fort Huachuca.

Frank Landon, foreman of the Ray mine, has been appointed justice of the peace for the Ray precinct. From this time henceforth it will be Judge Landon.

The Phoenix city council has raised the salary of its city marshal from $1,200 a year to $1,500, and has fixed the salary of its city recorder at $1,500.

Phoenix newspapers are agitating a carnival for that place in November, future, and the business men of the capital city are donating freely to the end that the show will be a success.

The Flagstaff normal school will be dedicated some time in November. Superintendent of Instruction Long has received an invitation to deliver a thirty minutes address on that occasion.

Wm. P. Reid, of Casa Grande, has been admitted to the naval academy at Annapolis. Young Reid was ordered to appear at Annapolis in class of thirteen alternates for examination, and was one of three who successfully stood the test.

The badly mutilated remains of a man were found by "Tuck" Potter one day last week, about nine miles from Bisbee. Coroner Williams sat upon them without arriving at any conclusion further than the man is dead.

First class territorial wool is now demanding 18 cents per pound in Boston and a further advance in price is expected, consequently the Arizona wool grower who has two years' supply on hand is extremely happy. —Flagstaff Sun.

The ostrich farm north of Phoenix has apparently entered the market as a commodity. The ostriches were bought a year ago by the present owners for $10,000 and the latter were offered the other day $15,000 for the birds. —Phoenix Herald.

The highest mountain peaks in Mohave county are Wallapai peak, in the Wallapai mountains, 8,900 feet; Mount Tipton, Cerbat range, 7,500 feet; Mount Emma, Uinkaret mountains, 7,000 feet; Mount Dellenbaugh, Grand Wash Mts., 6,750 feet, and Cherum's peak, Cerbat range, 6,500 feet.

John O. Dunbar, the veteran newspaper man, is again in the editorial harness, after a three months' vacation. He, assisted by Sam F. Webb, will in the future govern the destiny of the Gazette. Mr. Leitch, the former owner, has disposed of half his interest to these gentlemen, who have assumed control.

Wyatt Earp, than whom no one has done more to make history for Arizona — of a peculiar kind — is said to have amassed a small fortune at Dawson City, and is now on his way to San Francisco. Wyatt will be remembered best by those who backed Fitzsimmons when he fought Sharkey and Mr. Earp acted as referee, giving the fight to the latter.

The supreme court of the territory is to meet this month. At this session the fate of the appeal in the Halderman brothers case will be decided. It is probable the court will adjourn to its regular January meeting without taking action on any recently filed cases at the special term. —Tombstone Prospector.

The rise of the Colorado river this year has been high and prolonged to an unusually late season. The stream is sending a portion of its water through the old channel known as New river into the Salton basin. This has not occurred since 1892, and not so late in the season in recent years.

I. H. Warring came over from Prescott, Ariz., last week, to accept an offer of $17,500 for his half interest in the Fortuna Oil company. He returned on Tuesday. "Hud" seems to be pretty fortunate of late. He made a good sale of his oil properties and gets a salary of $250 a month as superintendent of some Arizona mines. —Santa Paula Cal. Chronicle.

Articles of incorporation of the Ray mining company have been filed with county recorder Shilbell. The incorporators are Alexander Hill, A. A. Steinfeldt and S. M. Franklin. The capital stock is $100,000 of 100,000 shares of the par value of $1 per share. The company's places of business will be Tucson and at the mine in Pinal county. —Tucson Star.

The remains of an unknown man were found a few days ago in the desert hills, nine miles from the Phoenix mine and about 40 miles from Phoenix. The remains are probably those of some prospector who ventured to cross the desert hills without water and expired.

William Horner, a locomotive engineer in the Terminal railway, received Monday a telegram from a quartermaster general of the army at Washington offering him the position of engineer on the San Carlos reservation in Arizona. He has wired his acceptance of the offer. —Los Angeles Herald.

The fact is being very well settled that the real name of the man now in jail at Santa Fe, who is masquerading as Tom Ketchum, is really Dill, and that Tom Ketchum is at large, says the Prescott Courier. It is further stated that Berry Ketchum, who visited Dill in Santa Fe, gave it out that Dill was his brother Tom, and did so for obvious reasons. It is also stated that when Berry Ketchum was first shown the picture of Dill he ejaculated, "this don't do at all."

About 9 o'clock last evening "Doc" Gamble, a bar tender, fired two shots from a revolver at Billy Fogarty, one shot taking effect in the latter's hand. The shooting occurred in the Legal Tender saloon and was the culmination of a quarrel carried on between the two men during the evening. When the shooting commenced there was a lively stampede by those in the saloon for fear of bullets. Fogarty's wound is slight and both he and Gamble have reason to be thankful that it is no worse. —Tucson Star.

More corn is raised in Graham county than in all other counties of Arizona combined, says the Solomonville Bulletin. It is not unusual for our farmers to harvest a crop of wheat and a crop of corn from the same land in one year. Forty bushels of corn to the acre is about an average crop, though some land will produce 100 bushels to the acre, under favorable conditions. The rain which came to this section in September made a great difference in the corn crop of this valley. Before the September rains the corn was not looking well and a short crop was threatened. Now an immense crop is assured and much of it is all ready to put in the crib.

Perhaps the largest single transaction in cattle in the history of this industry in Mexico is now being closed, says the Forder Vidette. The deal involves the purchase of 15,000 head of large cattle and an outlay of nearly $800,000 in money. The purchases are being made for export to Cuba in the interest of the firm of Utget, Lay & Co., of Havana and New Orleans. C. M. Gaither, general agent of the firm, has been perfecting arrangements for several days. The cattle will pass through United States territory to Galveston in bond, thence to Cuba by vessel. The first shipment will be made from Nogales next Tuesday, and will be continued in trains of 500 head until all are shipped.

The most important case tried this term of the district court, says the Arizonian, is the suit entitled the Detroit Copper Co. vs. the Board of Supervisors, which was decided in favor of the company. It seems the board raised this company's assessment $71,000 on the 20th of last July. Afterwards the company began an action in the district court, complaining that in making this raise the board acted without its jurisdiction, and the company obtained an order requiring the board to send a certified copy of its proceedings in the matter to the district court and asked that the raise be adjudged illegal and void.

Another effort is to be made by California parties to find the long lost Pegleg mine. It has been thirty years since this mine, famous as a tradition, was discovered. It was supposed to have been one of the richest mines ever found on the Pacific coast. It was located by a man known as Pegleg Smith. There were three white men with Smith when the discovery was made. They took out several thousand dollars in a few weeks. They were then set upon by Indians and all killed except Smith, who escaped badly wounded. Many unsuccessful attempts have been made since to discover the mine. Now comes the Indian, 120 years old, who says he knows the right locality, remembers the fight well and can show where the murdered miners are buried. It is presumed that the Indians buried their victims in those days. At any rate a party will soon set out on its will-o-the-wisp errand with the Indian for a guide. The mine is supposed to be in this section of Arizona. —Tombstone Prospector.

Nearly all the gold ores in this vicinity carry a high percentage of silver; then there are silver claims in which silver predominates that carry some gold. Nature put the two metals in the ground together; it is evident that the Creator of the world intended the two metals to go hand in hand together down through the ages; but the goldbug administration is not satisfied with the plan of the Creator and proposes to enforce the worship of the golden calf of usury. Yavapai, would be twice as prosperous as she is now. Any statement that silver does not exist in considerable quantities in this county is misleading; and there are other sections of Arizona in the ores of which silver very largely predominates. —Prescott Courier.

The body of a man found hanging to a tree a few weeks ago, near Nogales, will be taken to Tucson. It is thought by many that the remains are those of E. W. Derry, of San Francisco, and it is also believed that Derry was murdered by J. C. Brown, the young man who is now in the Tucson jail awaiting trial upon the charge of having forged Derry's name to a check for $1,000, says the Citizen. The stomach has been taken out of the body and its contents have been analyzed, the result being that a large quantity of poison was found therein. A bottle of poison was found in Brown's satchel, and it is claimed that this is the same kind of poison that was found in Derry's stomach. It is said that a dentist will identify the body as that of Derry by the fillings in his teeth. Other witnesses will testify that Brown and Derry were seen traveling together, and that they were seen near the scene of the crime. The body will be presented in evidence at Brown's trial, and the charge will be changed from forgery to murder.

The Clifton Era has the following account of an important addition to the working force of the Arizona Copper company: "The business of the Arizona Copper company has increased to such an extent during the past year or so that it has entailed upon Mr. Colquhoun more work than is usually allotted to one man to do. This enormous increase of business of this company has been brought about by the untiring efforts of Mr. Colquhoun, the general superintendent, and as a reward for his work and ability displayed has placed an assistant superintendent in the field that Mr. Colquhoun may have a surcease from his labors. In giving him an assistant the company has shown their appreciation and gratitude for the great work he has done for them and he has well merited it. The assistant is no stranger to the people of Clifton, as he formerly resided here, some three or four years ago, holding an important position with the company at the time. His name is Murray Innes, and the people of Clifton will give him a most cordial welcome when he dons his harness for his new position. Mr. Innes has many friends in this region, is deservedly popular, and it goes without saying that he will lose none of it during his reign as assistant superintendent of the Arizona Copper company. It was while he was in the employ of the company that he displayed the business ability and tact that has gained for him the new honors that have been thrust upon him." and the New Era predicts for him still greater honor.

George A. Mintz, grand secretary of I. O. O. F. of this jurisdiction, has returned says the Phoenix Republican, from a week's visit in the southern part of the territory where, in company with Grand Master H. C. Hitchcock of Globe and Grand Representative Emil Marks of Bisbee, he visited the various lodges in that part of the territory. Mr. Hitchcock accompanied by his wife will reach Phoenix in a few days, where the latter will visit friends, while the grand officers make a tour of the northern towns of the territory in the interest of the order. Mr. Mintz relates an incident of his southern journey that brought blisters to his hands and tears to his eyes. A washout on the Sonora railroad had caused the suspension of traffic and it was important that they catch the next train at Benson, eighteen mile distant and up grade. They joined issue with a man, wife and child who were also anxious to travel, and chartered a hand car. The start was all right, but by the time they had reached the summit they had lost interest in the proceedings, were dependent in spirit and exhausted in flesh. It became necessary to press a Mexican into service in order to keep from losing all the ground they had gained. The Mexican pushed and they pumped, eventually getting over the grade.

Summons.

In the District Court, Second Judicial District, Territory of Arizona, in and for the County of Gila.
SARAH A. LEIG, Plaintiff vs.
BENJAMIN M. LEIG, Defendant.
Action brought in the District Court of the Second Judicial District of the Territory of Arizona, in and for the County of Gila, and the complaint filed in said County of Gila in the office of the Clerk of said District Court. The Territory of Arizona reads greeting to Benjamin M. Leig, defendant: You are hereby summoned and required to appear in an action brought against you by the above-named plaintiff in the District Court of the Second Judicial District of the Territory of Arizona, in and for the County of Gila, and answer the complaint filed with the Clerk of this Court at Globe, in said County, to copy of which complaint accompanies this summons within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service upon you of this summons, if served in this County, but if served out of this County, and within this District, then within twenty days in all other cases, then thirty days, or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint.
And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint as above required, the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief therein demanded, and costs and disbursements in this behalf expended.
Given under my hand and seal of the District Court of the Second Judicial District of the Territory of Arizona, in and for the County of Gila, this 21st day of September, A. D. 1899.
J. P. KEELE, Attorney for Plaintiff.
